

Hollywood babe feels Need For Speed

It has been confirmed that Hollywood actress Emmanuelle Vaugier will star in new racing title

'Need for Speed Carbon'.

Vaugier, who has appeared in top blockbusters including 'Saw 2' and '40 Days And 40 Nights', will portray Nikki - the ex girlfriend of the hero who has returned to town to face his mysterious past.

The actress, who also has a recurring role in Charlie Sheen sitcom 'Two And A Half Men', said she was "thrilled" to be offered the part by games company Electronic Arts.

Vaugier remarked: "Being able to work in a videogame for the first time and working with the 'Need For Speed Carbon' team at EA has been a great experience for me. This is a game that evolves the racing genre, and I'm thrilled to be a part of it.

"Playing the role of Nikki allows me to take a completely fresh approach to acting and push the boundaries of the creative process."

'Need for Speed Carbon', which promises to deliver adrenaline-filled street racing and will challenge players

5 Emmanuelle Vaugier Games Top Stories

July 2006

Hollywood babe feels Need For Speed It has been confirmed that Hollywood actress Emmanuelle Vaugier will star in new racing title 'Need for Speed Carbon'.

Vaugier, who has appeared in top blockbusters including 'Saw 2' and '40 Days And 40 Nights', will portray Nikki - the ex girlfriend of the hero who has returned to town to face his mysterious past.

The actress, who also has a recurring role in Charlie Sheen sitcom 'Two And A Half Men', said she was "thrilled" to be offered the part by games company Electronic Arts.

Vaugier remarked: "Being able to work in a videogame for the first time and working with the 'Need For Speed Carbon' team at EA has been a great experience for me. This is a game that evolves the racing genre, and I'm thrilled to be a part of it.

"Playing the role of Nikki allows me to take a completely fresh approach to acting and push the boundaries of the creative process."

'Need for Speed Carbon', which promises to deliver adrenaline-filled street racing and will challenge players to face the ultimate test of driving skill on treacherous canyon roads, will be released on all major consoles this autumn.